Enhance your online communications through more support for emoji characters

- Moodle 3.3 has improved our support of multibyte unicode characters on MySQL databases, making Moodle work more naturally for a wider variety of languages, such as Japanese, Chinese and Korean.

- Another important benefit of this is that Moodle now has much better support for emoji characters everywhere that text can be entered, such as forum posts and of course messaging both on the web and in our Moodle Mobile App!

- Enhance your online communications through more support for emoji characters.
